COVID Creativity

Ukrainian COVID rules are constantly changing but student leaders just roll with the punches.

Maria hosted our Thanksgiving student gathering at her church so Eric and Jan could each address groups of about 20 students in separate locations at the same time. Each room even had its own worship team.

Jossence decorated our basement for the international students' Friday night prayer group Christmas party to avoid bringing everyone into our family living quarters upstairs. We ate socially-distanced around the ping pong table. The gift exchange brought them closer together.

Despite screen fatigue, students are still coming to online everything: small groups, prayer meetings, leader training and one-on-ones. Some internationals have temporarily left Ukraine because their universities are online. Clinton led a Bible study from Rwanda and Bénédicte prayed with us from Belgium.

Now Booking for US Itineration 2021-2022

It was a joy to have our daughter Anastasia with us in Kyiv for her extended Christmas break from Evangel University. Kristina and Michael were so happy they let her hold Midnight for a new family photo (above). We look forward to visiting our oldest daughter, Alexia, and her husband Ben in New Hampshire in July.

We are so grateful for our faithful supporters who made it possible for us to extend our current term in Ukraine to six years, ending this June. Then we'll relocate to the US for as long as it takes to raise our budget for the next term. Please contact us to schedule a missions service or visit, online or in-person. We will be based in Ohio.

GLOBAL
STUDENT MOVEMENT

In November in a nearby

country, students organized their 10th annual national prayer conference entirely on Zoom. In February, about 300 students gathered in-person for their annual national camp. The event was also live-streamed on social media, including gifts of the Spirit in operation.

Due to COVID travel restrictions, the AGWM Global Commission on Student Ministries, on which we serve, was unable to participate in a January student ministry training event in Indonesia as planned. The Commission met on Zoom instead and discussed how to move forward in this new paradigm.

Pray for creativity. Thank you!
